LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT,

THE 30TH SEPTEMBER, 1842.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 30th of September 1842:—

Act No. — 1842.

An Act for the better Administration of Justice within the Town of Calcutta, in small causes not included within the jurisdiction of the Court of Requests.

I. It is hereby enacted, that from and after it shall be lawful for any one of the Judges of Her Majesty's Supreme Court to hold a Court for the hearing and decision of all matters for which a Civil Action at Law will lie in the said Supreme Court except as hereinafter mentioned, according to the Law there administered, subject to such modifications as are hereinafter authorized—provided that the amount claimed by the Plaintiff do not exceed 400 Company's Rupees, and provided the suit be not founded on any demand of damages for an assault or battery, or for written or verbal defamation.

II. And it is hereby enacted, that Suits at present cognizable by the Court of Requests shall be brought before that Court as heretofore, and not before the Judge holding the Court indicated in the last Section—provided that no judgment passed by the Judge holding such Court shall be impeached for error, or be held as extra judicial on the ground that the Suit ought to have been brought in the Court of Requests.

III. And it is hereby enacted, that the said Supreme Court shall make Rules for the proceedings before a Judge holding such Court as is established by this Act—which Rules shall regulate the manner of proceeding in the said Court, viz. the institution of the Suit, the entry of the Plaintiff, the Process, the entry of the Defence, and other subsequent allegation by either party, and the practice of the said Court, the fees to be taken, and the costs to be allowed. Provided that both Plaintiffs and Defendants be liable to be examined at the discretion of the Judge, and that no witness be deemed incompetent to give testimony upon any ground whatever. Provided further that all such Rules shall receive the confirmation of the Governor General in Council before they are put in force.

IV. And it is hereby enacted, that in order to reduce the Costs of Suit and to render the same proportionate to the amount of the demand recoverable before the said Court the allegations of the parties be not entered in any written pleadings to be delivered between party and party, but be made orally before the Officiating Judge and be by him directed to be entered in a book to be kept for that purpose to be termed the Book of Pleadings of the said Court, and be entered accordingly under his direction in untechnical and concise language, according to the legal effect thereof, to which Books the parties shall have at all times access without the payment of any fee or reward.

V. And it is hereby enacted, that no Costs of employing any Counsel or Attorney shall be allowed on the taxation of Costs in any Suit in the Court hereby established unless the Judge who presided at the trial shall certify that the nature of the case was such as to render the employment of Counsel or Attorney expedient for the attainment of justice.

VI. And it is hereby enacted that the said Supreme Court shall with the consent of the Governor General in Council thereto previously obtained, and with the like consent previously obtained to the salaries hereinafter mentioned, appoint such Officers as shall be necessary for transacting the business of the said Court established by this Act to be remunerated as far as the same will extend out of the fees of the said last mentioned Court; Provided that the fees hereby directed to be imposed shall be subject to the revision of the said Governor General in Council from time to time, and that the same shall be reduced from time to time if the same shall be found to exceed the amount of the reasonable expenses of the maintenance of the said Court including all such salaries as aforesaid.

VII. And it is hereby enacted, that all the power and authority vested in the Supreme Court in the case of Civil Actions shall be vested in every Judge holding such Court as is established by this Act I.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be re-considered at the first meeting of the Legislative Council of India, after the 30th day of November next.

FORT WILLIAM,

SECRET DEPARTMENT, THE 4TH OF OCTOBER, 1842.

The Hon'ble the President in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following Copy of a General Order by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India, dated Simla, the 21st September, announcing the successful operations of the Forces under Major Generals Pollock and Nott, in Affghanistan, and of the combined British Forces in China.

By order of the Hon'ble the President in Council,

G. A. BUSHBY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Head-Quarters, Simla, 21st September, 1842.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

The Governor General has this-day received the reports of three victories obtained, on the 30th of August, by Major General Nott, over twelve thousand Afghans, 38 miles south west of Ghuznee; on the 8th of September, by Major General Pollock, over the troops of Mahomed Akbar Khan and the Ghilzie Chiefs at Jugdulluck; and on the 16th of June, by the expedition on the coast of China within the mouth of the river Yang-tse-Kiang at the city of Woosung.

In this last operation, and those immediately preceding it, Vice Admiral Sir W. Parker and Lieutenant General Sir Hugh Gough took 364 guns from the Chinese.

On the 3d of September Major General Nott had advanced to Nanee, a short march of Ghuznee.

On the 9th September Major General Pollock had advanced to Kutta Sung, and had experienced no opposition.

Formed as the troops under Major General Nott have mostly been by four years of constant service, and habituated as they have been to victory under their able Commander, the Governor General had anticipated their success against any force which could be brought against them. It is to the Governor General a subject of sincere satisfaction, that the events of the campaign should have opened a more extensive field to that brave army on which it may make manifest to the world the high qualities he has long known it to possess.

Major General Pollock has, through the prudence of his arrangements, and the correctness of the movements directed by him, had the gratification of affording to his troops the opportunity of proving their superiority to the Afghans on the very scene of the last disaster on the retreat from Cabool; and Major General Sir R. Sale, at the head of the garrison of Jellalabad, worthily supported by the re-inforcements from India, has had the glory of leading the army on its triumphant return to the capital in Affghanistan.

The Governor General regards with the highest admiration the noble ardour which has, in these several operations, been manifested, equally by the officers and soldiers of both nations and of all arms. He sees, in the successes already obtained, the certain promise of other more decisive victories calculated to impress upon all the enemies of the British Government a conviction of the futility of resistance to the forces under his direction, and tending, under the continued favor of Providence, to effect the first object of his desire, the restoration of peace to Asia.

By order of the Right Honorable the Governor General of India,

Secy. to the Govt. of India,

FROM MAJOR GENERAL POLLOCK, C. B.
Commanding in Afghanistan.

To T. H. MADDOCK, Esq.
Secy. to Govt. Pol. Dept.

Dated camp Kutta Sung, September 9th, 1842.

SIR,

I have the honor to forward, for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor General, copy of a letter which I have this-day addressed to the Adjutant General of the Army, detailing the operations against the enemy near Jugdulluck yesterday.

I have, &c.

(Signed) GEORGE POLLOCK, Major General,
Commanding in Afghanistan.

P. S. I have this moment received two letters from Major General Nott to your address, which I have read, thinking they might contain information which would regulate my movements. I have also the honor to forward copy of a letter from Major General Nott to my address.

Copy of a letter from Major General G. Pollock, C. B., commanding troops in Afghanistan, to Major General Lumley, Adjutant General of the Army.

Dated Camp Kutta Sung, 9th September, 1842.

SIR,

Sir R. Sale, G. C. B.

I have the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander in Chief, that I left Soork-ab on the morning of the 8th instant, in progress to Jugdulluck with the troops detailed in the margin.

On approaching the hills which command the road through the pass, I perceived their summits were occupied by a considerable number of men, and a nearer view enabled me to ascertain the nature of their position, which was one of singular strength and difficulty of approach. The enemy were assembled in bodies apparently under different Chieftains, each having a distinguishing standard.

The hills they occupied formed an amphitheatre inclining towards the left of the road on which the troops were halted while the guns opened, and the enemy were thus enabled on this point to fire into the column, a deep ravine preventing any contact with them. The practice of the guns was excellent, yet the enemy appeared so determined on making a stand that the bursting of the shells among them on the right hill, which was of a conical shape and difficult ascent, had not the effect of making them relinquish it, or of slackening their fire, which now became heavy from all parts of their position causing several casualties.

It is with the deepest feeling of regret I have to deplore the loss of Captain Nugent, officiating Sub-Assistant Commissary General, who was shot here and died almost immediately. I had lately received the most important and valuable assistance from him; the service has lost a promising officer, and the department to which he belonged a most efficient member.

As the guns appeared to have little effect in forcing the enemy to quit the heights, I resolved upon attacking them; for this purpose Captain Broadfoot was detached to the extreme left of the enemy's position, and his sappers commenced ascending a steep hill on the top of which the enemy were entrenched in a sungah. Her Majesty's 9th foot, under Lieutenant Colonel Taylor, were directed to cross a deep ravine and assault the hills on the opposite side, where the enemy held a ruined Fort, and were with their Chiefs and cavalry in considerable numbers. Her Majesty's 13th light infantry, led by Captain Wilkinson, commanding the regiment, attacked the hill which may be considered the key of the position. The 9th, accompanied by two companies of the 35th native infantry, under Lieutenants Boileau and Trench; the 13th by 130 men of the 26th, led by Captain Gahan, (Major Huish, who although present in the field, was prevented by his wound received at Mamoo Kheil from assuming the command) rushed up the heights simultaneously, and the animated and enthusiastic cheer they gave seemed to strike a panic in the enemy; for they dared not wait the collision, but fled down the hills, and were enabled to escape chastisement by the nature of the ground which was so well calculated to favor their retreat. At this moment Major Lockwood, with Her Majesty's 3d light dragoons, galloped up, and had very nearly succeeded in overtaking the enemy's cavalry, but I am sorry to say they also effected their safety by flight.

Captain Broadfoot had completely succeeded in the attack he made, and the enemy were dispersed in every direction, a large body of them retiring to the summit of a high mountain. On this apparently inaccessible height they planted their standards, and showed every demonstration of maintaining it. As the achievements of the day would have been incomplete were they suffered to remain, I decided upon dislodging them. The troops named in the margin advanced under cover of Captain Abbott's guns and those of Captain Backhouse's mountain train. Seldom have soldiers had a more arduous task to perform, and never was an undertaking of the kind surpassed in execution; these lofty heights were assaulted in two columns, led by Captains Wilkinson and Broadfoot, the discomfited Ghilzies not relishing an encounter, betook themselves to flight, carrying away their standards, and leaving our troops in quiet possession of their last and least assailable stronghold.

It gratifies me to be enabled to state, that we have thus signally defeated with one division of the troops the most powerful tribes and the most inveterate of our enemies, the original instigators and principal actors in those disturbances which entailed such disasters on our troops last winter.

The following are the Chiefs who were present in the action :

Uzeez Khan,.....	} Jubber Kheil Ghilzies.
Gool Mahomed Khan, ...
Suadut Meen Khan,.....
Khoda Buksh Khan,.....	} Chiefs of Tezeen, Babukkur Kheil Ghilzies.
Azul Khan, and Khojeh Mahomed Shah Khan, ...
Sirdar Khyroolla Khan Barukzye, ...	} Sent by Mahomed Akbar Khan from Cabool, to co-operate with the Ghilzies.
Shah Ghazee Khan, ...
Gool Ghilzie,....
Hajee Ali Tajick, ...
Ibrahim Khan, and.....	} Lughman Chiefs.
Mullick Suddoo, ...

The petty Chiefs of Hissaruck were also engaged, and indeed the whole strength of the Ghilzie force may be considered to have been brought against us, numbering on this occasion from four to five thousand men.

Let me now express how much I owe to the brave officers and soldiers who have thus gallantly asserted their superiority in arms; were I to name all who merit eulogy, I should feel obliged to enumerate every officer who was present.

I feel considerable diffidence in mentioning the name of Major General Sir R. Sale, G. C. B., whose heroic conduct in the field stands so little in need of my commendation. On this occasion I was an eye witness to the personal intrepidity of this highly distinguished officer, as he led up the heights in advance of his own regiment under a very hot fire.

To the officers in command of regiments and detachments, and to the heads of departments, also to the officers of my personal and the general staff, I feel especially indebted for the zealous and efficient manner in which they performed their respective duties; and I trust His Excellency the Commander in Chief will bring to the notice of His Lordship the Governor General, that every individual engaged has exerted himself to the utmost to serve his country.

I have the honor to enclose a rough sketch of the scene of operations and a return of killed and wounded.

Head-Quarters, dated Camp Kareez Oosman Khan, August 29th, 1842.

SIR,

I have the honor to acquaint you, that on the morning of the 28th instant, a body of the enemy attacked our rear guard, I directed the officer in command of the cavalry to detach a party to assist in dispersing it.

The accompanying letter from Captain Christie details the result.

FROM CAPTAIN J. CHRISTIE,

Commanding the Detachment,

TO CAPTAIN DELAMAIN,

Senior Officer of Cavalry.

Dated Camp Kareez Oosman Khan, 28th August, 1842.

SIR,

Agreeably to the instructions conveyed to me through Lieutenant Forbes, Adjutant, 3d light cavalry, I proceeded to the rear with two ressallahs of the 1st Bengal irregular cavalry and three ressallahs of my own regiment, and now do myself the honor to report the result as follows, for the information of Major General Nott :

I proceeded at a trot for about a mile and a half, when we were closing well with the enemy, all of a sudden we came on a ravine with steep sides, which for a time completely brought us up. However we managed to file down and form again on the opposite side. This delay allowed the enemy to move a long way ahead, but getting the detachment into a smart gallop, we succeeded in coming up with them just as the foremost of them had reached the bottom of the hills. We cut up about 50 of them, Lieutenant Chamberlain's party from the other flank destroyed 12 more.

The enemy, I should think, amounted to about 300 horse and foot.

Every man did his duty, so it is impossible to offer any remark on individuals, and I shall only add, that I was quite satisfied with the conduct of all.

I beg to return lists of the killed and wounded.

TO T. H. MADDOCK, Esq.,

Secy. to the Govt. of India,

With the Governor General.

Head Quarters, dated camp Gonine, 38 miles S. W. of Ghuznee, 31st Aug. 1842.

SIR,

I have the honor to acquaint you, for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor General of India, that Shumshoodeen, the Afghan Governor of the Fortress of Ghuznee, brought nearly the whole of his army, about twelve thousand men, into the vicinity of my camp yesterday, at 3 o'clock P. M.

I moved out with one half of my force, the enemy advanced in the most bold and gallant manner, each division cheering as they came into position, their left being upon a hill of some elevation, their centre and right along a low ridge until their flank rested on a Fort filled with men, they opened a fire of small arms, supported by two six-pounder horse artillery guns, which were admirably served; our columns advanced upon the different points with great regularity and steadiness, and after a short and spirited contest, completely defeated the enemy, capturing their guns, tents, ammunition, &c. &c. and dispersing them in every direction. One hour's more day-light would have enabled me to destroy the whole of their infantry.

Shumshoodeen fled in the direction of Ghuznee, accompanied by about thirty horsemen.

I enclose a list of killed and wounded on the 28th and 30th instant, also a return of ordnance, ammunition, &c. &c. taken from the enemy.

The behaviour of the troops, both European and Native, which such as I anticipated, and afforded me complete satisfaction.

I beg leave to bring to the favorable notice of the Right Honorable the Governor General of India the undermentioned officers; many of them have served under my command for the last three years, and have been conspicuous for their zeal and gallantry in the various affairs which have occurred with the enemy during that period, and especially in the action of the 12th of January last, and have invariably upheld the reputation of our arms and the honor of our country.

Brigadier Wymer, commanding the 1st infantry brigade, Lieutenant Colonel McLaren, commanding 16th regiment native infantry, Major Hibbert, commanding Her Majesty's 49th regiment, Captain Burney, commanding 38th regiment native infantry, Captains Christie and Haldane, commanding corps of Bengal irregular cavalry, Major Sotheby, commanding the artillery, Captain Blood, commanding Bombay foot artillery, Major Sanders, Bengaleengineers, Lieutenants North and Studert, Bombay engineers, Majors Leech and Rawlinson, of the political department, attended me in the field, and rendered me great assistance in conveying my orders.

My best thanks are due to my Staff, Captain Polwhele, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Captain Waterfield, Aide-de-Camp, Lieutenant Tytler, Deputy Quarter Master General.

Annexed is a letter from Brigadier Wymer, speaking in the highest terms of his Brigade Major, Captain T. H. Scott, of the 38th regiment native infantry. I fully appreciate this excellent officer's merits, he has been with me in four actions, I trust I shall not be thought presumptuous in expressing a hope that he will receive some mark of the favor of Government by Brevet or other wise.

I cannot close this despatch without expressing my admiration of the dashing and gallant conduct, rapid movement, and correct practice of Captain Anderson's troop of Bengal horse artillery, nothing could exceed it, and I beg leave to bring this officer and Lieutenant Turner, attached to the same troop, to the particular notice of His Lordship, as officers who have on many occasions rendered me most essential service.

This being the second time of the display of Captain Scott's abilities when in action with the enemy as my personal Staff, will I hope plead my apology for recommending him to your notice, and the favorable consideration of Government, in any way you may have it in your power to mention him as a meritorious and deserving officer.

CIRCULAR TO HER BRITANNIC MAJESTY'S SUBJECTS IN CHINA.

The gratifying duty of announcing further highly important successes of Her Majesty's combined Forces, again devolves on H. M.'s Plenipotentiary in China.

After the necessary delay in destroying the Batteries, Magazines, Foundaries, Barracks and other Public Buildings, as well as the Ordnance, Arms and Ammunitions captured at Chapoo, the troops were re-embarked, and the Expedition finally quitted that Port on the 23d of May and arrived on the 29th off the Rugged Islands, where it remained until the 13th of June, on which day it crossed the Bar which had been previously surveyed and buoyed off into the Yangtsekiang River to the point where that River is joined by the Woosung.

At this point the Chinese Authorities had erected immense lines of Works to defend the entrances of both Rivers, and seem to have been so confident of their ability to repel us that they permitted a very close reconnoissance to be made in two of the small Steamers by their Excellencies the Naval and Military Commanders in Chief on the 14th instant, and even cheered and encouraged the Boats which were sent in the same night to lay down buoys to guide the Ships of War to their allotted positions of attack.

At daylight on the morning of the 16th, the Squadron weighed anchor and proceeded to take up their respective Stations, which was scarcely done when the Batteries opened and the cannonade on both sides was extremely heavy and unceasing for about two hours: that of the Chinese then began to slacken, and the Seamen and Marines were landed at once under the fire from the Ships, and drove the enemy out of the batteries before the Troops could be disembarked and formed for advancing.

Two hundred and fifty-three Guns (42 of them brass) were taken in the batteries, most of them of heavy calibre, and upwards of 11 feet long. The whole were mounted on pivot carriages of new and efficient construction, and it was likewise observed that they were fitted with bamboo sights.

The Casualties in the Naval arm of the Expedition amounted to two killed and twenty-five wounded, but the Land forces had not a man touched. It appears almost miraculous that the Casualties should not have been much greater, considering how well the Chinese served their Guns: the "Blonde" Frigate had 14 shot in her hull, the "Sesostris" Steamer 11, and all the Ships engaged, more or less. The loss on the part of the enemy is supposed to have been about 80 killed and a proportionate number wounded.

On the 17th of June, some of the lighter Vessels of the Squadron advanced up the Woosung River and found a Battery deserted, mounting 55 Guns, of which 17 were brass.

On the 19th, two more Batteries close to the City of Shanghai opened their Guns on the advanced division of the light Squadron, but on receiving a couple of broadsides, the Chinese fled, and the batteries which contained 48 Guns (17 of them brass) were instantly occupied and the troops took possession of the City where the public buildings were destroyed, and the extensive Government Granaries given to the people.

Captain Christie's corps, late Shah's.

His Excellency the Admiral proceeded up the River Woosung with two of the small Iron Steamers on the 20th instant, about 50 miles beyond the City of Shanghai, and in this reconnaissance two additional Field works, each mounting four heavy Guns, were taken and destroyed, bringing the total of Ordnance captured in these operations up to the astonishing number of 364, of which 76 are of brass, and chiefly large handsome Guns. Many of the Brass Guns have got devices shewing that they have been cast lately; several of them have Chinese characters, signifying the "Tamer and Subduer of the Barbarians," and one particularly large one is dignified by the title of the "Barbarian."

The Chinese High Officers and Troops are supposed to have fled in the direction of the Cities of Soochow, Hangchowfoo and Nanking. The same High Authorities have made another indirect attempt to retard active operations by an avowed wish to treat, and have also given a satisfactory proof of their anxiety to conciliate by the release of 16 of H. M.'s Subjects (European and Natives of India) who had been kidnapped, but as the overtures were not grounded on the only basis on which they can be listened to, they were met by an intimation to that effect.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

Dated on Board the Steam Frigate "Queen," in the Yangtse-kiang River, "off Woosung," the 24th day of June, 1842.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE FROM CHINA.

Englishman Office, Oct. 4, 3 p. m.

THE Tenasserim Steamer has brought important news from China to the 10th Sept. A Peace has been concluded in the following terms:

China to pay 21 million dollars in the course of the present and 3 succeeding years.

Canton, Amoy, Foo Chow foo, Ningpo, and Shanghai, to be open to British Merchants.

Hongkong ceded in perpetuity to the English. All British subjects in the hands of the Chinese to be released.

An Act of Amnesty to all Chinese subjects who have aided the English to be signed by the Emperor.

Correspondence to be conducted on terms of perfect equality amongst the officers of both Governments.

On the Emperor's assent being received, and six millions of dollars paid, the British troops are to retire from Nankin, and the Military Posts at Chinhai to be withdrawn; but Chusan and Kulengsoo to be held until all the other arrangements are effected.

The treaty was concluded with the Chinese High Commissioner on board the Queen Steamer off Nanking on the 26th August, 1842.

There had been a sharp battle at Chin Keang-foo on the 20th July in which the Chinese suffered very heavily. Our own loss was 28 Rank and File killed and 91 wounded. Of the killed there were Colonel Dwyer of the 6th M. N. I., Captain Collinson and Lieutenant Gibbons of the 18th Royal Irish, and Major Uniacke of the Royal Marines.

The wounded Military officers were Lieuts. Bernard, 18th Foot, Baddely, 49th, Lieut. Grant, 49th, Major Warren and Lieut. Caddy, of the 55th, Capt. Simpson, Rifles, Ensign Trowers, and Lieut. Carr, 2nd M. N. I., Lieut. Waddle, Madras Artillery—and the wounded of the Navy were Lieut. Crouch, and Mr. Midshipman Lyons.

It appears that the Sevastopol, steamer left Nankin with the Tenasserim, and takes the news to Bombay. Major Malcolm goes direct to Suez in the Auckland steamer to take home the Emperor's ratification of the treaty. The Nemesis steamer goes to Formosa to relieve the crews of the Anne and Nerbudda. Captain Whittingham, A. D. C., is on board the Sevastopol, with despatches for England.

We shall give the whole of the China intelligence in detail in to-morrow's paper, and likewise in a second Edition of the Overland ~~Express~~ which will be in print to-morrow.

ACT No. — 1842.

An Act for the better Administration of Justice within the Town of Calcutta, in small causes not included within the jurisdiction of the Court of Requests.

I. It is hereby enacted, that from and after it shall be lawful for any one of the Judges of Her Majesty's Supreme Court to hold a Court for the hearing and decision of all matters for which a Civil Action at Law will lie in the said Supreme Court except as hereinafter mentioned, according to the Law there administered, subject to such modifications as are hereinafter authorized—provided that the amount claimed by the Plaintiff do not exceed 400 Company's Rupees, and provided the suit be not founded on any demand of damages for an assault or battery, or for written or verbal defamation.

II. And it is hereby enacted, that Suits at present cognizable by the Court of Requests shall be brought before that Court as heretofore, and not before the Judge holding the Court indicated in the last Section—provided that no judgment passed by the Judge holding such Court shall be impeached for error, or be held as extra judicial on the ground that the Suit ought to have been brought in the Court of Requests.

III. And it is hereby enacted, that the said Supreme Court shall make Rules for the proceedings before a Judge holding such Court as is established by this Act—which Rules shall regulate the manner of proceeding in the said Court, viz. the institution of the Suit, the entry of the Plaint, the Process, the entry of the Defence, and other subsequent allegation by either party, and the practice of the said Court, the fees to be taken, and the costs to be allowed. Provided that both Plaintiffs and Defendants be liable to be examined at the discretion of the Judge, and that no witness be deemed incompetent to give testimony upon any ground whatever. Provided further that all such Rules shall receive the confirmation of the Governor General in Council before they are put in force.

IV. And it is hereby enacted, that in order to reduce the Costs of Suit and to render the same proportionate to the amount of the demand recoverable before the said Court the allegations of the parties be not entered in any written pleadings to be delivered between party and party, but be made orally before the Officiating Judge and be by him directed to be entered in a book to be kept for that purpose to be termed the Book of Pleadings of the said Court, and be entered accordingly under his direction in untechnical and concise language, according to the legal effect thereof, to which Books the parties shall have at all times access without the payment of any fee or reward.

V. And it is hereby enacted, that no Costs of employing any Counsel or Attorney shall be allowed on the taxation of Costs in any Suit in the Court hereby established unless the Judge who presided at the trial shall certify that the nature of the case was such as to render the employment of Counsel or Attorney expedient for the attainment of justice.

VI. And it is hereby enacted that the said Supreme Court shall with the consent of the Governor General in Council thereto previously obtained, and with the like consent previously obtained to the salaries hereinafter mentioned, appoint such Officers as shall be necessary for transacting the business of the said Court established by this Act to be remunerated as far as the same will extend out of the fees of the said last mentioned Court; Provided that the fees hereby directed to be imposed shall be subject to the revision of the said Governor General in Council from time to time, and that the same shall be reduced from time to time if the same shall be found to exceed the amount of the reasonable expenses of the maintenance of the said Court including all such salaries as aforesaid.

VII. And it is hereby enacted, that all the power and authority vested in the Supreme Court in the case of Civil Actions shall be vested in every Judge holding such Court as is established by this Act.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

FORT WILLIAM,
POLITICAL DEPARTMENT,

THE 5TH OF OCTOBER, 1842.

The Hon'ble the President in Council has much satisfaction in republishing for general information, a Notification issued by Her Majesty's Plenipotentiary in China, announcing the conclusion at Nanking, on the 29th of August last, of a Treaty of Peace, which was signed by the Chinese High Commissioners, with the assent of the Emperor to its provisions received in an Imperial Edict on the 27th Idem.

A Royal Salute is directed to be fired from the Ramparts of Fort William in honor of this event.

By order of the Hon'ble the President in Council,

G. A. BUSHBY,
Offg. Secy. to Govt. of India.

CIRCULAR

TO HER BRITANNIC MAJESTY'S SUBJECTS IN CHINA.

Her Britannic Majesty's Plenipotentiary in China has extreme gratification in announcing to Her Majesty's Subjects in China, that he has this day concluded and signed, with the Chinese High Commissioners, deputed to negotiate with him, a treaty, of which the following are the most important Provisions.

1. Lasting Peace and Friendship between the two Empires.
2. China to pay Twenty-one Millions of Dollars in the course of the present and three succeeding years.
3. The Ports of Canton, Amoy, Foo-choo-foo, Ningpo, and Shanghai, to be thrown open to British Merchants, Consular officers to be appointed to reside at them and regular and just Tariffs, of import and export (as well as inland Transit) duties to be established and published.
4. The Island of Hong to be ceded in perpetuity to Her Britannic Majesty, Her Heirs and Successors.
5. All Subjects of Her Britannic Majesty, (whether Natives of Europe or of India) who may be in confinement in any part of the Chinese Empire to be unconditionally released.

6. An act of full and entire Amnesty to be published by the Emperor under His Imperial Sign Manual and Seal to all Chinese Subjects, on account of their having held service or intercourse with, or resided under the British Government or its officers.

7. Correspondence to be conducted on terms of perfect equality amongst the officers of both Governments.

8. On the Emperor's assent being received to the Treaty, and the payment of the first Six Millions, Her B. M.'s Forces to retire from Nanking and the Grand Canal, and the Military Posts at Chinhai to be also withdrawn, but the Islands of Chusan and Koolangsoo are to be held until the Money Payments and the arrangements for opening the Ports be completed.

In promulgating this highly satisfactory intelligence Her Majesty's Plenipotentiary purposely refrains from any detailed expression of his own sentiments as to the surpassing skill, energy, devotion, and valour, that distinguished the various grades, from the highest to the lowest of all arms of Her Majesty's combined Forces, during the contest that has led to these momentous results.

The claims which have been thus established will be doubtless acknowledged by the Highest Authorities. In the meantime, H. M.'s Plenipotentiary congratulates Her Majesty's Subjects in China on this occasion of a Peace, which he trusts and believes will in due time be equally beneficial to the Subjects and interests of both England and China.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

(Copies.)

No. 67.

From His Excellency Vice Admiral Sir WM. PARKER, K. C. B.,
Naval Commander in Chief, China,

To the Right Honorable Lord ELLENBOROUGH,
Governor General of India.

Dated Cornwallis, at Woosung, 26th June, 1842.

MY LORD,

I have the honor to enclose for your Lordship's information copies of my Despatches to the Secretary of the Admiralty, reporting the capture of Woosung, Paonshan and Shanghai, on the 16th and 19th instant, with a total of not less than 400 Guns and a large quantity of Arms and Military Stores, with comparatively small loss; and I beg to offer my congratulations to your Lordship on these events.

Sir Hy. Pottinger returned to the Expedition on the 20th instant, and nearly the whole of the expected reinforcements of Troops and Ships of War have arrived in this quarter with ample supplies of Provisions and Stores.

As I believe His Excellency Sir Hugh Gough sends your Lordship the copies of our late correspondence with "Elepaio," I do not trouble you with another set, and have only to add that no time will be lost in advancing the Expedition up the Yang-tse-Keang in prosecution of further operations.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) W. PARKER, Vice Admiral.

Dated Cornwallis, at Woosung, 26th June, 1842.

No. 128.

From His Excellency Vice Admiral Sir W. PARKER, K. C. B.,
Naval Commander in Chief, China,

To the SECRETARY OF THE ADMIRALTY, &c. &c. &c.

Dated Cornwallis, Woosung Harbour, 17th June, 1842.

SIR,

I did myself the honor of apprising the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty on the 26th ultimo, from Chapoo that His Excellency Lieutenant General Sir Hugh Gough and myself had it in contemplation to make our next descent at Woosung, situated at the entrance of a large River of that name branching from the Yang-tse-Keang; and I have now the gratification of reporting to their Lordships that after a severe cannonading yesterday from Her Majesty's Squadron and the Steam Vessels of the Indian Navy under my command, and a spirited resistance on the part of the Chinese, the whole of their numerous and heavy Batteries, defended by several thousand men, were carried with little comparative loss by the Seamen and Marines; and a practicable place for disembarking the Troops having been thus secured, the combined Forces under Sir Hugh Gough took possession of Paonshan, a City of the third class, at the Northern extremity of the Sea line of batteries, without further resistance.

In detailing these operations I beg to inform their Lordships, that as soon as the Guns, Arms, and Military Stores of every description taken at Chapoo were effectually destroyed, not a moment was lost in re-embarking the Troops.

The fleet sailed from thence on the 28th of May, and on the following day reached the Rugged Islands, lying 14 leagues distant to the Eastward, where Commanders Kellett and Collinson had recently discovered a safe and extensive sound, conveniently situated as an anchorage for the Expedition, pending the further examination of those Officers assisted by Lieutenant Maitland, of the "Algerine," to ascertain a safe channel for the large Ships into the Yang-tse-Keang; but it was not until the 4th instant, that they were able to rejoin us with a satisfactory report of their investigation.

The fleet proceeded to the Northward on the following day; but from the strength of the tides, calms, fogs and the necessity of anchoring during the nights, we did not arrive at the appointed rendezvous off the Amherst Rocks before the 8th, when the "Modeste," with the "Nemesis" and "Phlegethon," Steam Vessels, were immediately detached off Woosung to intercept any communication with that place; and six of the small vessels were at the same time placed as beacons at the edge of the shoals on the North side of the channel, leading into the Yang-tse-Keang; this highly important duty was executed most skilfully by Commanders Kellett and Collinson as no land marks are visible on the low banks of the River by which the dangers can be defined; and the "Ariadne," Iron Steam Vessel, very narrowly escaped foundering by striking on the point of a rock, before unknown, near the position taken up by the "Algerine." This rock is awash at low water, and had not more than 4 or 5 feet on it at the time the bottom of the Steam Vessel was completely perforated, and the compartment which contains the Engine instantaneously filled with water, but by prompt assistance from the Squadron, and a sail being got under her bottom, the leak was sufficiently absorbed to enable her, with the assistance of the Sesostris, to reach Chusan, where I trust her damages will be made good in a few weeks.

The weather continued too thick for the Ships again to break ground before the 13th, when I am happy to say the "Cornwallis," conducted by Commander Kellett, and accompanied by the Squadron stated in the margin, and twelve Transports succeeded in reaching the anchorage off Woosung under sail without a single accident, though running for a distance of 30 miles in water which only exceeded by 3 feet the draft of this Ship.

Blonde—Columbine—Jupiter Troop Ship—Phlegethon, Tenasserim, Medusa Steam Vessels.

I found that Commander Watson, with Mr. Forster, Master of the "Modeste," had been indefatigable since their arrival in making observations and sounding the narrow channel by which alone the "Woosung" River can be approached. The banks at the entrance were lined with strong batteries; the Western side preventing for 3 miles an uninterrupted fortified embankment mounting 134 guns, between the City of "Poushan" and the Village of "Woosung." This Village is bounded by a Creek on the opposite bank of which a semi-circular battery mounting ten 24-pounders was erected to flank the entrance of the river. A strong Fort, mounting 21 guns, at the Eastern entrance of the Woosung, completed the sea defence, making a total of 175 guns, which were all placed in judicious positions.

The distance between the last mentioned Fort on the East side and the main battery on the West line is scarcely a mile, and the Channel which runs between them on the West side in a curved direction, is not more than 320 yards wide.

A close reconnoissance was made by Sir Hugh Gough and myself in the "Medusa" Steam Vessel, on the 14th, but we were unable to discover any spot where the Troops could be landed, except under the guns of the Ships; and I could not entertain a doubt of soon effecting this object, if they could be placed in good positions for cannonading the works.

Although the weather was unfavorable, every difficulty was overcome by the zeal and perseverance of Commanders Kellett and Collinson, assisted by the Masters of H. M.'s Ships named in the margin, who during the night sounded and buoyed the Channel with admirable accuracy. The "Medusa" was then advanced as near as the batteries as we could venture to anchor her, supported by Guard Boats to prevent the Chinese removing the Buoys, and by the vigilance of Lieutenant Hewett none of them were disturbed.

The "Sesostris" returned from Chusan on the 15th, and the wind being adverse for the Ships taking up their positions under sail, I determined on placing them against the batteries by the aid of the Steam Vessels; and the following morning, being from the state of the weather and tide favorable for our purpose, they were lashed alongside of Her M.'s Ships at dawn of day, and at 6 o'clock the whole proceeded to the attack in the following order:

Blonde, towed by	Tenasserim.
Cornwallis, ...	Sesostris.
Modeste, ...	Nemesis.
Columbine, ...	Phlegethon.
Clio, ...	Pluto.

Algerine to get in as far as possible under sail; the Medusa being reserved to meet any unexpected contingency.

The "Blonde" and "Cornwallis" were directed to anchor against the heaviest batteries at the entrance on the Western side; and when placed the Sloops were to proceed higher up under the cover of their fire, to attack those adjoining the Village of "Woosung," and the flanking battery immediately opposite to it; which it was evident could be passed and enfiladed if the depth of water marked on the Charts in our possession proved correct.

The "Blonde" was kept ahead of the "Cornwallis" to be ready to support the Sloops should they require it; the narrowness of the Channel in which we were to anchor making it doubtful in that event whether there would be space for her to pass this Ship.

Captain Bouchier led in with his accustomed gallantry and ability closely followed by the "Cornwallis" bearing my flag under a heavy fire from the batteries on both sides which we were obliged to approach under Commanders Kellett and Collinson, handsomely volunteered their assistance as Pilots, and about half past 6 o'clock the two Ships were anchored by the stern in excellent positions, within five hundred yards of the batteries, the Sloops passing on successively to their stations.

The "Algerine" was obliged to bring up astern of the "Cornwallis," and the "Sesostris" after casting off from this Ship, in proceeding to take a station to enfilade the Fort on the eastern side, unfortunately took the ground, but in a position which enabled Commander Ormsby to render very essential service of which he ably availed himself.

Before the "Tenasserim" could take up her assigned station, the "North Star" was observed outside endeavouring to enter the Channel, the former Vessel was therefore despatched to tow her into position; and under the guidance of Commander Kellett, she was placed in a good berth ahead of the "Blonde" in time to participate in our operations. The "Tenasserim" then attempted to close the eastern battery with which the "Sesostris" and some of the larboard guns of the "Cornwallis" were engaged, but in doing so she likewise took the ground, although in a situation to render very effective service.

It is but justice to say that the Chinese evinced much firmness in their guns and kept up a smart fire for a considerable time although it gradually slackened after the Ships opened on them.

The Gun practice of the Squadron equalled my most sanguine expectations and by eight o'clock our opponents were all driven from their batteries, those opposite to the Ships being reduced to a ruinous state. Large bodies of Troops however were still observed from our mast-heads collected in different directions to oppose our landing; but they were at length dispersed by shells which were thrown with excellent precision by the Gunnery Officers of the "Cornwallis" and "Blonde," with the addition of some Rockets from the former Ship.

During these proceedings at the entrance of the River, the "Modeste," "Columbine" and "Clio" led on with great spirit by Commander Watson and skilfully conducted by the Steam Vessels respectively attached to them, gallantly and completely achieved the service assigned them, the "Modeste" pushed at once into the Creek at the Village of "Woosung," while the "Columbine" and "Clio" approached the opposite flank of the semi-circular battery which was immediately abandoned; and the Guns adjoining the Village being soon silenced, the three Commanders landed at the head of their men about eight o'clock and took possession of it, but not without some resistance from the Chinese Troops in that quarter. On perceiving this movement, the main body of the Seamen and Marines which were already in the boats, immediately disembarked opposite the "Cornwallis" and "Blonde" under Captain Bouchier, supported by Captains Peter Richards and Sir J. Everard Home, and forming a junction with Commander Watson's party, the whole line of the Western batteries were completely in our hands.

The Chinese in the eastern battery, which also suffered considerably, retired shortly afterwards, when Commander Ormsby promptly landed with a party of men from the "Sesostris" and "Tenasserim" and destroyed the Guns and Works.

The smaller Steam Vessels equally contributed to the success which attended Commander Watson's division, and when the "Nemesis" and "Phlegethon" were disengaged from the "Modeste" and "Columbine," Lieutenants Hall and McCleverty proceeded with their usual activity in chase of 13 War Junks which had fired on them in their advance; these were totally destroyed, each mounting about 3 Guns besides small arms, but the Crews after sustaining much loss made their escape. Three small Junks, newly constructed with paddle wheels to work by hand, were also taken. In performing this service, the "Nemesis" took the ground and remained some hours on shore, but got off without injury; and I must not omit to notice the exertions of the "Medusa" and "Pluto" with similar approbation.

No time was lost in despatching the available Steam Vessels for the Troops, and before one o'clock I had the satisfaction of seeing the whole of the Land Forces disembarked without accident under their gallant General, opposite to the "Cornwallis;" and in the afternoon the Combined Forces entered "Pouchong" without resistance.

I now gladly acquit myself of a very gratifying part of my duty in bearing testimony to the gallantry and satisfactory conduct of the Captains, Commanders, Officers, and men of all ranks in the Royal and Indian Navy, and Royal Marines under my Command. It would be almost invidious to particularize where all have displayed the same emulative spirit of enterprise and zeal; the whole being entitled to my unqualified commendation; but from the special position of my Flag Captain, I may be allowed without prejudice to these sentiments to express my acknowledgments for the valuable assistance which I at all times derive from the unwearied exertions and good judgment of Capt. P. Richards, and I may add that my Secretary Mr. B. Chimoo, and Flag Lieut. Chas. E. Tennant having invariably attended me on every occasion of service with most praiseworthy zeal.

I transmit herewith for his Lordship's information lists of the killed and wounded, the damages sustained in the respective Ships, the names of the Officers who were attached to the landing parties on the 16th, and an account of the Guns which have been taken.

It is impossible to state accurately either the force or the loss of the Chinese, as they
No. 1. are quick in removing those who have suffered, but from the number of bodies
" 2. found in different directions, I cannot estimate their killed at less than one hundred, and
" 3. a proportionate number of wounded, and from various accounts they must have had
" 4. from five to ten thousand men for the defence of "Woosung" and "Poushan."

Many additional Guns have fallen to our hands at and to the northward of the City; a considerable number of those taken are of Copper, which we are now embarking in the Ships of War and Transports, and as soon as the destruction of the Chinese Military Stores is completed, the General and myself propose to advance on the City of Shanghai.

No. 130.

From His Excellency Vice Admiral Sir W. PARKER, K. C. B.,
Naval Commander in Chief,

To the SECRETARY OF THE ADMIRALTY, &c. &c. &c.

Dated Cornwallis, Woosung Harbour, 24th June, 1842.

SIR,

In anticipation of our advance on "Shanghai," communicated in my Letter No. 128 of the 17th instant, I beg to acquaint you for the information of my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, that the "Phlegethon" and "Medusa" were despatched up the River on that day with Commander Kellet to ascertain if any obstruction might be expected either from the Chinese Forces or want of water for the Steam Vessels in their passage with the Troops; but they returned in a few hours, having been stopped by two strong batteries on each side of the River, about six miles above Woosung, that on the left bank mounting 46 and on the opposite 14 guns; the latter opened a distant but ineffectual fire on the Steam Vessels.

The Modeste, Columbine and Clio, towed by the Nemesis, Phlegethon and Pluto, were therefore immediately sent in advance with directions to Commander Watson, to take up a position as near as possible to these batteries, without drawing their fire until the Expeditionary forces joined; but to destroy the Guns and Stores in them, if the panic caused by the attack of the 16th should induce the Chinese to quit them without much resistance: and I now transmit a copy of Commander Watson's report of his having taken possession of both these works without opposition.

The Expeditionary forces were joined on the 16th by the Dido, with 8 Transports, containing the 2d Madras Native Infantry, and other reinforcements from India; and the destruction of the Guns and Military Stores at "Pouchan" and "Woosung" being completed, the Troops were embarked on the morning of the 19th, in the Tenasserim, Nemesis, Phlegethon and Pluto, which respectively took the North Star, Modeste, Columbin and Clio in tow, and proceeded up the River; the Marines of the Squadron being put on board the "Medusa," in which the General and his Staff did me the honor to accompany me, together with Captains Bouchier, Richards and Kappel, and a few boats from their respective Ships to assist in landing the Troops—a force of about five hundred men, including some Horse Artillery, were also despatched by the General by land towards Shanghai, which is about 12 miles above Woosung.

With the exception of one or two narrow Channels we found no difficulty in navigating this splendid river, and by half past one o'clock had approached within sight of the City when the "North Star," which was leading, observed a range of batteries at the north end of it which soon afterwards opened a distant fire without doing any mischief, the Squadron was then directed by signal to cast off the Steamers and engage, when the Ships promptly shot into close positions, and on the discharge of two well directed broadsides from the North Star and Modeste (by which four guns were dismantled) and a few guns from the Steam Vessels, the Chinese fled with precipitation, and Captain Bouchier immediately landed with the Seamen and Marines and took possession of the Batteries on which 49 Guns (17 of brass) were mounted, and a considerable quantity of Arms of different descriptions; the whole of which, with the exception of the brass guns, were destroyed.

The troops disembarked in the City from the Steam Vessels nearly at the same time, when they were joined by the party that marched from Woosung, which had previously entered on the West side, but the Mandarin authorities had all fled, and the principal inhabitants were departing as fast as possible in every direction.

The Columbine and Medusa were sent to the Southward of the City to endeavour to check this depopulation, but although the River at Shanghai is not less than 650 yards wide, it was literally covered with Junks and boats of all sizes carrying off furniture and goods. The respectable inhabitants however that did remain, appeared to regard us with less apprehension than I had anywhere before seen, and they freely produced the supplies of provisions, &c. that were required. We were informed that the day before our arrival a serious affray had occurred between the inhabitants and the Mandarin Party, and several lives lost, in consequence of the heavy exactions of the latter for the avowed purpose of defending the place and their hasty abandonment of it on our approach.

A large quantity of Guns, Arms and other Ammunitions of War, as well as an abundant store of Rice were found in the Arsenal and Magazines at Shanghai; and while the Land Forces were occupied in examining and destroying them, and the Ships in getting off the brass Guns, &c. —feeling very desirable to ascertain, as far as it was practicable, the navigable course of the River, and other water communications of the interior, Capt. Bouchier and Commander Kellett proceeded on the 20th with the Phlegethon and Medusa, the Barge and some Marines of the Cornwallis and a boat of the Columbine, for 30 miles without interruption, when two batteries of 5 Guns each were observed on the left bank in the supposed vicinity of Sung-keang, they were however abandoned on the approach of the Steam Vessels, and Lieutenant Wise, with the Boats and Marines of the Cornwallis, landed and destroyed them without resistance, although a considerable body of Troops had assembled within a short distance.

Captain Bouchier's report of his progress up the River was so satisfactory that I determined to prosecute the examination still further, and accordingly proceeded on the following day with the addition of the Nemesis, and we succeeded in ascending 37 miles in a direct line and 47 including the sinuosities of the River above Shanghai where we were stopped by the shallowness of the water at the entrance of a large lagoon, but having spoken with some small Junks loaded with Coal which left Suchan-fu only on the preceding day, we satisfactorily ascertained that there is a water communication from the Woosung River with that rich and popular City; and that we had actually reached within 25 miles of it with encouraging hopes that the small Steamers may convey Troops within a short distance of it should it be desirable.

Commander Kellett's zeal on this service and on every other in which he is engaged, exceeds all praise; and I have the satisfaction of herewith transmitting for their Lordships information a Sketch which he has drawn with much ability of the Coast of the Woosung from its entrance as far as we have proceeded. It will convey to their Lordships the best idea of the locality in which we have been operating, and I trust prove a satisfactory addition to our present geographical knowledge of these parts.

The Troops were all re-embarked at Shanghai early on the morning of the 23d, when the Squadron dropped down the River, and they were in the course of the afternoon transferred to their respective Transports at the anchorage off Woosung.

The Surveying Vessels and Light Ships of the Squadron will now proceed up the Yang-tae-kiang, and their Lordships may depend that no time will be lost in proceeding with the Expeditionary Forces in prosecution of further operations.

I have, &c.,

P. S. I enclose a list of Guns taken and destroyed in the batteries between Woosung and Shanghai, in the Arsenal and Batteries at Shanghai and above that City, on the banks of the River.

Commander-in-Chief,
&c. &c. &c.

Dated Modeste, Woosung River, 1-30 p. m., 18th June, 1842.

SIR,

In pursuance of your Excellency's order of yesterday's date I have placed the Ships under my Command (except the Chio who unfortunately got aground on her way up, and has not as yet been got afloat) out of gun shot of the batteries.

Finding this morning that the batteries on the Starboard and Larboard side above us had been deserted by the Enemy, I dropped the Modeste near and landed and took possession of them with the Marines and Small Arm men of the Modeste and Columbine.

I found the Guns named in the margin had been dismantled, Tents destroyed and Carriages most of them been taken away—above the batteries I found 8 War Junks, all of which were burnt, except a small one in which I hope this evening to have all the Copper Guns embarked.

I have also the honor to enclose to your Excellency a copy of Mr. Forster's remarks, who has been sounding about a mile above the batteries in our boats.

I have also to inform your Excellency that the Chop intrusted to me was forwarded to the City of Shanghai by a Chinaman, who undertook to deliver it there on the payment of a few Dollars.

I have, &c.,

THE 30TH SEPTEMBER, 1842.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 30th of September 1842:—

Act No. — 1842.

An Act for the better Administration of Justice within the Town of Calcutta, in small causes not included within the jurisdiction of the Court of Requests.

I. It is hereby enacted, that from and after it shall be lawful for any one of the Judges of Her Majesty's Supreme Court to hold a Court for the hearing and decision of all matters for which a Civil Action at Law will lie in the said Supreme Court except as hereinafter mentioned, according to the Law there administered, subject to such modifications as are hereinafter authorized— provided that the amount claimed by the Plaintiff do not exceed 400 Company's Rupees, and provided the suit be not founded on any demand of damages for an assault or battery, or for written or verbal defamation.

II. And it is hereby enacted, that Suits at present cognizable by the Court of Requests shall be brought before that Court as heretofore, and not before the Judge holding the Court indicated in the last Section—provided that no judgment passed by the Judge holding such Court shall be impeached for error, or be held as extra judicial on the ground that the Suit ought to have been brought in the Court of Requests.

III. And it is hereby enacted, that the said Supreme Court shall make Rules for the proceedings before a Judge holding such Court as is established by this Act—which Rules shall regulate the manner of proceeding in the said Court, viz. the institution of the Suit, the entry of the Plaintiff, the Process, the entry of the Defence, and other subsequent allegation by either party, and the practice of the said Court, the fees to be taken, and the costs to be allowed. Provided that both Plaintiffs and Defendants be liable to be examined at the discretion of the Judge, and that no witness be deemed incompetent to give testimony upon any ground whatever. Provided further that all such Rules shall receive the confirmation of the Governor General in Council before they are put in force.

IV. And it is hereby enacted, that in order to reduce the Costs of Suit and to render the same proportionate to the amount of the demand recoverable before the said Court the allegations of the parties be not entered in any written pleadings to be delivered between party and party, but be made orally before the Officiating Judge and be by him directed to be entered in a book to be kept for that purpose to be termed the Book of Pleadings of the said Court, and be entered accordingly under his direction in untechnical and concise language, according to the legal effect thereof, to which Books the parties shall have at all times access without the payment of any fee or reward.

V. And it is hereby enacted, that no Costs of employing any Counsel or Attorney shall be allowed on the taxation of Costs in any Suit in the Court hereby established unless the Judge who presided at the trial shall certify that the nature of the case was such as to render the employment of Counsel or Attorney expedient for the attainment of justice.

VI. And it is hereby enacted that the said Supreme Court shall with the consent of the Governor General in Council thereto previously obtained, and with the like consent previously obtained to the salaries hereinafter mentioned, appoint such Officers as shall be necessary for transacting the business of the said Court established by this Act to be remunerated as far as the same will extend out of the fees of the said last mentioned Court; Provided that the fees hereby directed to be imposed shall be subject to the revision of the said Governor General in Council from time to time, and that the same shall be reduced from time to time if the same shall be found to exceed the amount of the reasonable expenses of the maintenance of the said Court including all such salaries as aforesaid.

VII. And it is hereby enacted, that all the power and authority vested in the Supreme Court in the case of Civil Actions shall be vested in every Judge holding such Court as is established by this Act.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be re-considered at the first meeting of the Legislative Council of India, after the 30th day of November next.

FORT WILLIAM, 7th October, 1842.

No. 254 of 1842.—The Hon'ble the President in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the annexed Table, exhibiting the Pay, Batta and Superannuation Allowances of Warrant Officers of the Subordinate Medical Department, to have effect at the three Presidencies from this date.

To entitle Apothecaries and Hospital Stewards to retire in Europe on the Pension of their rank, they must have served in India, and the Department, for the periods laid down for Warrant Officers of the Ordnance Department, in Government General Order, 17th July 1819, No. 187, the Rules contained in paragraphs 5 to 9 inclusive, of which Regulation will continue to be applicable to all Warrant Officers of the Medical Establishment.

Full or Half Batta is to be drawn from Medical Warrant Officers, as well as for those of the Ordnance and Commissariat Departments at all Garrisons and Stations where either rate of Batta is admissible to European Commissioned Officers.

Although it has not been deemed necessary to admit Assistant Apothecaries and Assistant Stewards to the benefits of Furlough or to retire on a Pension in Europe, yet should any individual of those classes establish a fair claim to the indulgence, the Government will be prepared to give the circumstances of each case a favorable consideration on their being brought under its notice by the Commander in Chief.

OVERLAND LETTERS AND POSTAGE.

IT is hereby notified for general information—

First.—That all Letters and Newspapers, except Soldiers' and Sailors' Letters, intended for transmission by the Overland Mails, and except those specially marked via "Falmouth," will be sent through France, and thus be subject to the heavier rate of postage.

Second.—Letters and Newspapers addressed to France as well as those to other foreign countries, with which France is the channel of communication (if the latter are expressly directed to be so sent) will be made up in Packets and sent to the French Post Master at Marseilles; but Letters for Foreign Countries, other than France, if not specially directed to France, will be included in the Packets for England. Letters, &c., for places lying between Bombay and Marseilles, will be despatched in separate Packets.

Third.—Letters for the United Kingdom of Great Britain, weighing less than a quarter of an ounce, and passing through France, are charged single postage, which by that route amounts to 2s. 8d. By the Falmouth route, Letters of half an ounce in weight, are subject to single postage only, which by that route, has now been reduced to 1s.

Newspapers, if sent via Falmouth, are free of postage; but if transmitted by the way of Marseilles, they are charged 2d. each.

FORT WILLIAM, SECRET DEPARTMENT,

THE 13TH OCTOBER, 1842.

The Hon'ble the President in Council is pleased to direct the re-publication of the General Orders by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India, dated Simla the 30th ultimo, announcing to the Army and to the People of India, the re-capture of the Citadels of Ghuznee and Cabool by the Forces under Major General Nott and Major General Pollock, and the re-establishment of the superiority of the British Arms in Affghanistan.

In re-publishing this gratifying intelligence, the Hon'ble the President in Council cannot refrain from expressing his most cordial participation in the grateful and heartfelt acknowledgments offered by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General to Major General Pollock and Major General Nott, and to the Officers and Troops under their respective Commands, for these brilliant successes, and for the important services which, under Divine Providence, they have performed for the benefit of their country.

A Salute of 21 Guns will be fired this afternoon from the Ramparts of Fort William for the Capture of Ghuznee, and a similar Salute for the Capture of Cabool.

By order of the Hon'ble the President in Council,

G. A. BUSHBY,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

SECRET DEPARTMENT ; SIMLA, 30TH SEPTEMBER, 1842.

The Governor General announces to the army and to the people of India, the occupation of Ghuznee by Major General Nott, on the 6th of September, and its entire destruction by the Candahar division of the army.

Major General Nott had the satisfaction of releasing in the neighbourhood of Ghuznee three hundred and twenty-seven Sepoys, of the 27th native infantry, from the slavery to which they had been reduced by the Afghans.

The Governor General likewise announces the complete defeat of Mahomed Akbar Khan at the head of 16,000 men at Tezeen, on the 13th of September, by Major General Pollock, and the occupation of Cabool by the troops under that General, on the 16th of September.

The British flag waves in triumph from the highest point of the Bala Hissar.

Thus have all past disasters been retrieved and avenged on every scene on which they were sustained, and repeated victories in the field and the capture of the cities and citadels of Ghuznee and Cabool have advanced the glory and established the accustomed superiority of the British arms.

The Governor General has derived much satisfaction from the report made by Major General Pollock, of the admirable conduct of the troops of His Highness the Maharajah Shere Sing acting in co-operation with the British army.

The Governor General rejoices in this new proof of the cordial good understanding which prevails between the British Government and that of Lahore.

The report of Major General Pollock leads the Governor General to expect that long before this day all the British prisoners taken by the Afghans will have been brought into the General's camp. Those who had been left near Cabool were already at liberty.

The Governor General, in the name of the Government and of all the people of India, offers to Major General Pollock and Major General Nott, and all the officers and troops under their respective commands, his grateful and heartfelt acknowledgments of the important services they have performed.

The Governor General directs that the recent successes obtained by the armies in Afghanistan be fully made known to all the troops at all the stations of the army, and that at all those stations a salute of 21 guns be fired for the capture of Ghuznee, and a similar salute for the capture of Cabool.

Dated Camp Ghuznee, 8th September, 1842.

SIR,—My despatch of the 31st ultimo will have informed you of my having defeated the Afghan army commanded by Shumshooddeen.

On the morning of the 5th instant, I moved on Ghuznee. I found the city full of men, and a range of mountains running North East of the Fortress covered by heavy bodies of cavalry and infantry; the gardens and ravines near the town were also occupied. The enemy had received a considerable reinforcement from Cabool, under Sultan Jan.

I directed Major Sanders, of the Bengal engineers, to reconnoitre the works, under escort of the 16th regiment native infantry and a party of irregular cavalry. This brought on some smart skirmishing, in which our Sepoys behaved to admiration. Captain White, of Her Majesty's 40th regiment, commanding the light companies of the army, was pushed forward, accompanied by Anderson's troop of horse artillery, to support the reconnoitring party, and I at once determined on carrying the enemy's mountain positions before encamping my force. The troops ascended the heights in gallant style, driving the enemy before them until every point was gained.

The village of Bullal is situated about 600 yards from the walls of Ghuznee, upon the spur of the mountain to the North East, and observing it to be a desirable spot for preparing a heavy battery to be placed 300 paces in advance, I ordered it to be occupied by two regiments of infantry and some light guns, and retired the columns into camp.

The engineer officers, sappers and miners, and infantry working parties were employed under the directions of Major Sanders, during the night of the 5th, in erecting a battery for four 18-pounders; these guns were moved from camp before day-light on the morning of the 6th, but before they had reached the position assigned them, it was ascertained that the enemy had evacuated the Fortress.

I directed the City of Ghuznee, with its Citadel and the whole of its works, to be destroyed. I forward the Engineer's report.

In these operations our loss has been much less than might have been expected from the numbers and positions of the enemy, and the fact of the troops having been necessitated to move under range of the guns of the Fortress.

I enclose a list of killed and wounded.

The exertions of Major Sanders, of the engineers, were as usual most zealous, and my thanks are due to him and the department under his charge.

I beg to notice the following officers: Brigadier Wymer; Major Hibbert, commanding Her Majesty's 40th regiment; Captain Evans, in temporary charge of the 16th regiment native infantry; Captain White, Her Majesty's 40th regiment, commanding the light companies of the force; Major Sotheby and officers of the artillery.

I have every reason to be satisfied with my Staff, Captain Polwhele, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General; Captain Waterfield, Aid-de-Camp; Captain Ripley, and Lieutenant Kay, Deputy Judge Advocate General.

I continue to receive the greatest assistance from Major Leach.

I have, &c.

P. S. I have recovered about 327 of the Sepoys of the 27th regiment Bengal native infantry, who had been sold into slavery and dispersed in villages 30 and 40 miles round Ghuznee.

Camp Rozeh, near Ghuznee, 9th September, 1842.
MEMORANDUM.

On the morning of the 5th September 1842, General Nott moved his camp to take up a position before Ghuznee. An advanced party was ordered to protect a reconnoissance of the works undertaken by the engineer department. On the approach of this party to the hills North of the city, it was opposed in force, but was immediately supported by the General, and thus reinforced cleared the hills of the enemy, and took possession of the village of Bullal, within 400 yards of the city.

The General immediately directed this important point with the heights near the village to be maintained, and they were occupied by two regiments of native infantry and two 9-pounder guns.

While these operations were going on, the Camp was established at Rozeh, 2½ miles from the city. The guards required for the protection and general duties of the Camp absorbed so many men that but few were available for the duties of a siege. The General therefore determined not to invest the place in form, and directed the Engineer to concentrate the resources at his disposal in one spot, where protection might be most conveniently afforded to the siege operations.

With advertence to these instructions, the Engineer proposed to establish a battery on the ridge of the hill North of the town, in advance of the village of Bullal, and distant about 350 yards from the nearest point of the walls. From this battery it was expected that the four 18-pounder guns would lay open the thin flank wall connecting the Citadel on the West with the town wall in a few hours. The defences of the Citadel could be swept from the same point by the light artillery, and the lines of loop-holed wall which would bear on the advance of the storming party were all viewed in enfilade from the site selected for the battery. The advance of the party to the assault would have been greatly facilitated by the existence of a thick dam of earth across the ditch, immediately opposite the point marked out for the breach.

It was further proposed that the principal assault should be supported by two other attacks; one an attempt to blow in the water gate (both the others having been strongly built up, and the causeways in front of them cut through) another to escalate a weak point near the Cabool gate, which would have been greatly aided by the fire of the artillery from the hill.

This project met the General's approval, and at dusk on the evening of the 5th September, a working party composed of the sappers and of 160 men from the regiments occupying the hill commenced work on the battery. By 4 A. M. on the 6th September cover for the party had been secured across the ridge of the hill, and so much progress made in the execution of the work as to lead to reasonable expectations that the four 18-pounder guns and two 24-pounder howitzers would be established in position, and ready to open their fire during the day.

Early on the evening of the 5th a brisk matchlock fire was kept up from the Citadel on the hill, but this gradually slackened, and at 10 P. M. had entirely ceased. The enemy's infantry had been observed at dusk crossing the river, near the water gate, with the intention, it was supposed, of attacking the working party during the night; but towards the morning of the 6th, there were grounds for believing the Fort was evacuated. At day-light this was ascertained to be the case by Lieutenant North, of the engineers, who took possession at that hour of the water gate without opposition, leaving Eusign Newton and 20 Sepoys of the 16th native infantry in charge of the gateway, and returning to the battery for further assistance. The whole of the working party was immediately moved into the town, of which and of the Citadel of Ghuznee they were in possession before sun-rise.

Engineers,

TO MAJOR GENERAL W. NOTT,

Commanding field force, Ghuznee.

Dated Camp Rozeh, near Ghuznee, 9th September, 1842.

SIR,—On the occupation of the Fortress of Ghuznee by the troops under your command, I received orders from you to take measures for the destruction of the Citadel, to as great an extent as the means at command and the time afforded by a halt of two days would permit.

2. I have now the honor to report, that the engineer department attached to your force has been employed during the 7th and 8th instant, on the work of demolition, and to state the progress effected.

3. Fourteen mines have been sprung in the walls of the Citadel, all with good effect. The inner Fort has been completely destroyed; the second line of works extensively breached in two places; and the outer and lower walls have their revetments blown down and greatly injured in three places.

4. In several spots remote from the mines, the walls, though they have not fallen, are so seriously shaken by the explosions that unless immediate and energetic measures are adopted, on the departure of your force, for their repair and security, they must crumble down during the ensuing winter.

5. The gateways of the town and Citadel, and the roofs of the principal buildings have been fired and are still burning.

I have, &c.,

Dated Camp, Cabool, 16th September, 1842.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander in Chief, that on the 14th instant, we marched from Khoord Cabool to Bootkhak. I took the precaution of sending parties to crown the heights of the Khoord Cabool pass, but we met with no opposition. On the 15th I moved on to Cabool and encamped on the race course. This morning I proceeded to the Bala Hissar, with the following troops: a troop of horse artillery under Major Lafosse; a company from each regiment of infantry under Lieutenant Colonel Taylor; the 3d dragoons under Major Lockwood; a troop of the 1st regiment light cavalry; a ressallah of the 3d irregular cavalry, with the whole of the General and Division Staff. The object was to plant the British Colours in the Bala Hissar on the spot most conspicuous from the city. The Prince Futteh Jung, who joined my Camp at Gundamuck, expressed a wish to go with the party, to which I assented. On our arrival at the spot selected, the Colours were hoisted, the Band of Her Majesty's 9th foot immediately struck up the national Anthem of "God save the Queen," and a Royal Salute was fired from the guns of the horse artillery, the whole of the troops present giving three cheers.

I have left the Colours in the Bala Hissar, to be hoisted daily as long as we remain. The infantry also remain under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Taylor, but they will be relieved on the arrival of Major General Nott, by a native regiment from his force. I expect Major General Nott will reach Cabool to-morrow or the next day. Since our arrival here we have not been able to obtain any certain information of Mahomed Akbar. It appears however that Ameen Oollah has separated from him.

Neither of them have ventured to return in the direction of Cabool. The following prisoners have come into Camp: Mrs. Trevor, with 8 Children; Captain and Mrs. Anderson, with 3 Children; Captain Troup and Dr. Campbell. Unless some very unforeseen circumstances occur, I expect to obtain possession of the remainder of the prisoners in the course of 8 or 10 days, with the exception of Captain Bygrave, who I regret to find, has been taken by Mahomed Akbar, and was with him during the action of the 13th instant.

TO MAJOR GENERAL J. R. LUMLEY,

Dated Camp Boothhak, 14th September, 1842.

SIR,—I have the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander in Chief, that I marched from Seh Baba on the 11th instant, and arrived at Tezeen the same day, where I was joined by Major General McCaskill, with the 2d division. On the 12th I halted, in consequence of the cattle of the 2d division having suffered from effects of fatigue caused by their forced march; this halt the enemy imagined to be the result of hesitation, and in the afternoon attacked the picquets on the left flank, and became so daring, that I consider it necessary to send Lieutenant Colonel Taylor, with 250 men of Her Majesty's 9th foot, to drive them back; some sharp fighting took place, and the enemy were driven up the neighbouring hills, from the crests of which they kept up a heavy fire. Lieutenant Colonel Taylor, however, with a small party crept up one end of the hill unperceived by the enemy, who were hotly engaged in their front, and lay concealed until joined by a few more of his men, when rushing up on the flank of the astounded Afghans, he inflicted a severe lesson, pouring in a destructive fire upon them as they fled down the hill. A Chieftain was found among the slain, who it is supposed was the brother of Khodabux Khan. The enemy remained inoffensive on our left flank, in consequence of this very well planned and gallant affair of Lieutenant Colonel Taylor's, and withdrew to the right where they commenced a furious attack upon a picquet consisting of 80 men of the 60th regiment of native infantry, commanded by Lieutenant Montgomery, who sustained the assault with great resolution until reinforcements reached him, when the enemy were beaten off; in this attack the picquet had 4 killed, Lieutenant Montgomery and 17 men wounded; the enemy came so close that frequent recourse was had to the bayonet. Their attempts on the picquets continued throughout the night, but were invariably unsuccessful.

The valley of Tezeen, where we were encamped, is completely encircled by lofty hills, and on the morning of the 13th it was perceived that the Afghans had occupied in great force every height not already crowned by our troops: I commenced my march towards the mouth of the Tezeen pass, where I left two guns, 2 squadrons of Her Majesty's 3d dragoons, a party of the 1st light cavalry and 3d irregular cavalry. The enemy's horse appeared in the valley, with the intention of falling upon the baggage, but it gives me very great pleasure to state, that the dragoons and native cavalry (regular and irregular) made a most brilliant charge, and with such effect that the whole body of the enemy's force was completely routed and a number of them cut up.

The pass of Tezeen affords great advantages to an enemy occupying the heights, and on the present occasion Mahomed Akbar neglected nothing to render its natural difficulties as formidable as numbers could make it. Our troops mounted the heights, and the Afghans, contrary to their general custom, advanced to meet them, and a desperate struggle ensued; indeed their defence was so obstinate that the British bayonet in many instances alone decided the contest. The light company of Her Majesty's 9th foot, led by Captain Lushington, who I regret to say was wounded in the head, ascending the hills on the left of the pass under a heavy cross fire, charged and overthrew their opponents leaving several horses and their riders, supposed to be Chiefs, dead on the hill; the slaughter was considerable and the fight continued during the greater part of the day, the enemy appearing resolved that we should not ascend the Huft Kotul: one spirit seemed to pervade all, and a determination to conquer overcame the obstinate resistance of the enemy, who were at length forced from their numerous and strong positions, and our troops mounted the Huft Kotul, giving three cheers when they reached the summit. Here Lieutenant Cunningham, with a party of sappers, pressed the enemy so hard, that they left in their precipitation a 24-pounder howitzer and limber, carrying off the draft bullocks. Having heard that another gun had been seen, and concluding that it could not have gone very far, I detached a squadron of dragoons under Captain Tritton, and two horse artillery guns under Major Delafosse in pursuit: the gun (a 12-pounder howitzer) with bullocks sufficient for the two guns were soon captured. The dragoons again got among the enemy and succeeded in cutting up many of them. Captain Broadfoot with the sappers advanced, and with the dragoons happened to fall in with another party of the enemy, of whom upwards of twenty were killed. I have ascertained, there were about 16,000 men in the field opposed to me, a considerable portion of whom was cavalry, Mahomed Akbar Khan, Mahomed Shah Khan, Ameen Oollah, and many other Chiefs with their followers were present, all of whom I have reason to believe have taken to flight. We have gained a complete victory and our enemies have suffered severely, having several hundreds killed, losing their guns and three standards, one of which was taken from the enemy's horse by the 1st light cavalry. Although many attempts were made at the baggage, none were successful, chiefly owing to the judicious and admirable arrangements of Lieutenant Colonel Richmond, commanding the rear guard, and for which he deserves the greatest credit.

The Lahore contingent, under the able direction of Captain Lawrence, has invariably given the most cheerful assistance, dragging the guns, occupying the heights, and covering the rear guard. While ascending Huft Kotul and at Tezeen their long jezails told effectively in keeping the ground.

Major Skinner, Her Majesty's 31st foot, had been detached with a strong party on the night of the 12th, for the purpose of dislodging a body of the enemy on the heights in front of camp; this duty was performed with great gallantry the next morning, and his operations contributed much to frustrate the attempts of the enemy on our right flank. As the Major's movements were for some time separate from those of the main column, I deem it expedient to annex his report.

The enemy being completely dispersed, we pursued our march and encamped at Khoord Cabool without further opposition. The troops on this, as on all former occasions where they have been engaged with the enemy, shewed the most determined valor, and I feel that I cannot too highly praise their conduct: each regiment seemed to vie with the others in their endeavours to dislodge the enemy, which they most effectually accomplished. I have received from Major General McCaskill,

K. H., who on this occasion commanded the main column, every assistance, and from Major General Sir R. Sale, G. C. B., commanding the advance guard, the most zealous co-operation. The following officers have also given me every reason to be satisfied with their exertion: Brigadier Monteath, C. B., commanding the 4th brigade; Brigadier Tulloch, commanding 2d brigade, and Brigadier White, commanding cavalry brigade; Lieutenant Colonel Bolton, commanding Her Majesty's 31st foot; Lieutenant Colonel Richmond, commanding 33d native infantry; and Lieutenant Colonel Taylor, K. H., commanding Her Majesty's 9th foot; Major Skinner, Her Majesty's 31st foot; Major Huish, commanding 26th native infantry; Major Delafosse, commanding artillery; Major Crommelin, commanding 1st light cavalry; Major Lockwood, commanding Her Majesty's 3d light dragoons; Captain Napleton, commanding 60th native infantry; Captain Seaton, commanding 35th regiment light infantry; Captain Ferris, commanding Jezailchies; Captain Wilkinson, commanding Her Majesty's 13th light infantry; Captain Broadfoot, commanding sappers; Captain Tait, commanding 3d irregular cavalry, and Captain Lawrence, commanding the Sikh contingent; Captain Abbott, Chief Engineer; Captain Abbott, commanding light field battery; Captain Alexander, commanding 3d troop 2d brigade horse artillery; Captain Backhouse, commanding mountain train, and Lieutenant Beecher, commanding the sappers and miners. The services of Mr. Mackeson, commanding the bildars, have always been conspicuous. Superintending Surgeon Stiven's care in providing for the conveyance and comfort of the wounded has met with my approbation. From Major Thompson, at the head of the commissariat department, I have received every assistance; likewise from Captain Lane, Commissary of Ordnance, whose exertions have been unremitting throughout. From the following officers of my Personal and the General Staff I have on this as on every other occasion received the most effectual aid: Captain Macgregor and Lieutenant Pollock, Aids-de-Camp; Lieutenant Sir R. Shakespear, Military Secretary; Captain Ponsonby, Assistant Adjutant General; Captain Codrington, Assistant Quarter Master General; Captain Riddle, Pay Master; Captain Macadam, Deputy Judge Advocate General; Lieutenant Mayne, officiating Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General. The following officers of division and brigade Staff have also effectively performed their respective duties: Captain Havelock, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General; Brigade Majors Havelock, Smith, Wade, Lugard, and Brevet Captain Fitzgerald, artillery division Staff. I must not omit the expression of my regret for the fate of Hyder Ally, the native Commandant of the Jezailchies, a most gallant and enterprising soldier, who was killed while attempting to seize one of the enemy's standards.

I have the honor to forward reports from Lieutenant Colonels Richmond and Taylor, and Major Skinner, with returns of killed and wounded, and of Ordnance, Ammunition and Stores captured.

I have, &c.

Copy of a letter from Lieutenant Colonel Taylor, commanding Her Majesty's 9th regiment of foot, to Captain Ponsonby, Assistant Adjutant General.

Dated Camp Khoord Cabool, 13th September, 1842.

SIR,—I have to report, for the information of Major General Pollock, C. B., commanding the troops in Afghanistan, that agreeably to his orders, I proceeded at $\frac{1}{2}$ past 5 o'clock yesterday evening with 250 men of Her Majesty's 9th, to the support of the guards in charge of the public cattle feeding on the left of the Camp in the Tezeen valley, which were much pressed by the enemy. On clearing the left picquet, I was joined by Major Huish with a small party of the 26th native infantry. I threw forward a strong body of skirmishers, who quickly drove back those of the enemy on the plain, pursuing them to a range of low hills, where they made a stand till dislodged by our advance: further on I found the enemy in force, from 5 to 600, had taken post along the crest and on the top of a range of steep hills running near a mile from the Northward into the Tezeen valley; those towards the North were assailed by Captain Lushington, Her Majesty's 9th foot, with the left support and skirmishers, whilst I directed the attack against their front and left flank, which being turned, I ascended the heights between two ridges which concealed my approach till close to the summit and within 20 yards of their main body consisting of over 300 men. Collecting 30 to 40 men with Lieutenants Elmherst, Lister and Vigors, I ordered bayonets to be fixed, and the enemy to be charged, which was done with such resolution and effect, that the whole mass taken by surprise was pushed headlong down the hills, nor did they rally till out of musket shot. Their loss must have been very severe, as I observed numbers lagging behind to carry off their killed and wounded. As it was getting dark, I deemed it imprudent to pursue the enemy further, ordered the halt to be sounded, and after remaining in possession of their position for half an hour, retired without molestation. It affords me great gratification to bear testimony to the spirit and gallantry displayed by officers and men on this occasion, especially Major Huish, 26th regiment native infantry, Captain Lushington, and those concerned in the charge on the enemy.

I beg to transmit a return of the killed and wounded.

Copy of a letter from Major Skinner, H. M. 31st Foot, to Captain Ponsonby, Assistant Adjutant General.

Dated Boothhak, 14th September 1842.

SIR,—I have the honor to report for the information of the Major General commanding the army in Afghanistan, that I ascended the heights above the Tezeen valey, in front of our Camp, with

- 1 Co. H. M. 9th foot.
- 1 " " 13th light infantry.
- 1 " " 31st foot.

the detachment in the margin, on the afternoon of the 12th instant, and occupied the ridge till day-light next morning. From a communication with Major General Sir R. Sale, G. C. B., I learnt that I was to take the high peaks to the right of my position, and having driven the enemy from them, continue to operate among the lower hills to the head of the Huft Kotul, on the right flank of the advance guard of the army. These peaks were occupied in some force by the enemy, who was however easily driven from them and cleared away to the higher hills on my right. I ascended the first peak, which although the way was steep was not very difficult, in two small columns. The 1st, the companies of Her Majesty's 9th and 26th native infantry under Captain Borton, of the 9th foot; the second under Lieutenant Sayers, of the 31st, composed of the 2 companies of Her Majesty's 31st foot and 33d native infantry, covered by the sappers and jezaichies under Lieutenant Orr. I detached Lieutenant Sinclair, of the 13th light infantry, with the company of his regiment and one of the 35th native infantry, to the higher peak on the right hand, and supported him by Lieutenant Orr and the sappers, (after I had possession of the 1st height) who ascended by a steep ridge that connected them. Lieutenant Sinclair attained the summit of the hill without loss, driving the enemy away, and held it until the main column of advance came in sight, when he led his column on my right over the hills at the base of the higher mountains. The height I gained descends to the high road by a succession of small peaks, each connected by a narrow ridge; the enemy occupied with small parties each of these peaks, and was driven in succession from them. Captain Borton, at the head of a party of the 9th foot, made a gallant charge upon a strongly posted party of the enemy, and drove them away; he showed a great deal of boldness however, and made repeated attempts to recover his ground, taking advantage of the necessarily slow advance of the supporting parties from the steep and difficult nature of the hills. After I gained all the peaks, and the enemy had fallen back, I continued parallel to the main column over the hills to some distance beyond the top of the Huft Kotul; considering the great number that at one time opposed me until the appearance of the main column drew them off, my loss was not great, while the enemy suffered considerably. I beg leave to bring to the notice of the Major General the very good conduct of the officers and men who were under my command.

Having made the necessary disposition of my force to protect the baggage in the valley of Tezeen, and to secure the gorge of the pass, the different picquets were gradually withdrawn to strengthen the latter. Soon after I observed a large body of the enemy collecting near the Fort of Tezeen, South East of my position, and directed Lieutenant Douglas, whose guns had been previously posted on a commanding point, to open on them, but the distance proving too great for shells, the fire was discontinued. The enemy I suppose, encouraged by this, formed his cavalry in the valley to the number of about 600 men, with the evident intention of moving towards my post. I instantly decided on anticipating him, and as Captain Alexander's (horse artillery) three guns were still on the ground, I availed myself of his services, by sending forward his guns within range of the enemy, supported by the front squadron of Her Majesty's 3d light dragoons under Captain Unett, one squadron of 1st light cavalry under Brevet Major Scott, and the detachment of 3d irregular cavalry under Captain Tait, with orders to charge the enemy if the ground proved favorable and an opportunity offered. This soon occurred, the guns having made good impression, and the instant I observed the cavalry advance, the other squadron of dragoons was hurried forward under Major Lockwood, as a support, thus ensuring the success achieved by the spirited and gallant charge of their comrades in front, which completely dispersed the enemy, who left about fifty men on the field, and a standard, the latter taken by the 1st light cavalry, the bearer of which was cut down by Brevet Captain Goad.

Having accomplished all I wished, the troops returned to their original position in excellent order, covered by the very effective fire of the guns directed by Captain Alexander and by a company of the 35th regiment light infantry, the latter ordered forward for the purpose.

As the enemy showed no disposition to molest us further, and the whole of the baggage having entered the pass, the horse artillery and dragoons were permitted to commence their march, but before the latter had filed off, the enemy brought two guns to bear upon our position, which obliged me to place the remainder of the cavalry under cover of the high ground in the vicinity; these guns fortunately did no harm, and were soon after either withdrawn by the enemy, or silenced by a fire of round shot from Lieutenant Douglas's 9-pounder, ably directed by that officer and by Captain Lawrence, Political Agent, commanding the Seikh contingent, who handsomely volunteered his services on the occasion.

After allowing the main column and baggage to get well forward in the pass, I directed the remainder of the cavalry to enter, and followed with the infantry, the different parties of which gradually retired on the posts I had previously occupied, the enemy's infantry closing in and opening a heavy fire, which continued till we reached the top of the pass, a distance of 3 miles; and although I was compelled to hold my ground near the top of the pass for a long time, to admit of the guns and baggage passing over, I am happy to say that the enemy, though he pressed our several posts very warily, did not then or at any other time obtain the slightest advantage, and at length desisted from molesting us, which enabled me to re-form the troops and continue my march towards Camp, where I arrived about 8 o'clock P. M. with all the stores and baggage except a few loads of grain; also some camels and bullocks unable to proceed, which were destroyed on the road, agreeably to orders.

My best thanks are due to the officers and men engaged, both European and Native, for their cheerful endurance of fatigue under an intensely hot sun, and for their gallant bearing when in contact with the enemy; the whole seemed animated with one and the same spirit, which enabled them to overcome difficulties of no ordinary nature, highly creditable to British soldiers and especially so to the Bengal Sepoys. I feel it also just to notice the useful assistance afforded by the men of the Seikh contingent under Captain Lawrence, who took their full share of duty in the valley of Tezeen, and in defending the different posts in the pass.

Accompanying I have the honor to forward a return of the killed and wounded, which I rejoice to observe is not so heavy as might have been expected from the nature of the operations.

I have, &c.

(Signed) A. F. RICHMOND, Lieut.-Colonel,
33d regiment N. I. commanding the rear guard.
